Laborers Congratulate Marsden, Work Together for Stronger Communities

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Reston, VA (January 15, 2010) –

The Laborers' International Union of North America congratulates Dave Marsden on his successful campaign to win the Democratic seat in the Virginia Senate's special election, held this past Tuesday. In these tough economic times, Virginians need leaders in Richmond who will work together to create new jobs and more opportunities. Having joined in Marsden's 2010 campaign efforts, the Laborers have found in Marsden a strong voice for creating new jobs, building stronger communities, and creating a better Virginia for all.

LIUNA! firmly believes that we should never have to apologize or be ashamed to ask for living wages and basic healthcare/retirement benefits for all citizens, and we are proud to support candidates such as Dave Marsden who want to keep Virginia moving forward instead of backward. A vote for Marsden is a vote for working families, a platform that has unequivocally resonated with the people of Fairfax.

As Marsden heads to Richmond to tackle Fairfax's problems head on, he will no doubt face the challenge of many special interests and multiple agendas. The Laborers and their organization stand firm in their support of Mr. Marsden and extend the hand of cooperation and collaboration to all who would bring fairness and equality to the Commonwealth. Godspeed, Dave Marsden.
